INTRODUCTION

In line with the regulations of the AICTE, the Department of Science & Humanities at the National Engineering College organized a two-week (7th to 18th August 2023) Induction Program for the freshmen of the First Year Students.

OBJECTIVE

The objective of the program is to attune the students to their new environment, open them up, set a healthy daily routine, foster bonding among the class as well as between faculty and students, and foster awareness, sensitivity, and understanding of one's own needs as well as those of others, society at large, and nature.

The Induction Program is also utilized to bring in some significant gaps and encourage students to explore their academic interests and extracurricular activities, as well as to foster relationships between teachers and students, reduce competition, and encourage students to work for excellence. The induction program contained interesting activities like yoga, Universal human values (UHV), Local area visit team building activities, expert lectures, and campus orientation sessions with visits to various departments, libraries, sports fields, gyms, and other general locations. The purpose of induction was to ensure a smooth transition for the school students into the college system.

The following major activities under the induction program in which the students would be fully engaged throughout the day for the entire duration of the program include:

Yoga activity would involve a daily routine of breathing techniques; yoga poses and mindfulness. The practice of mindfulness involves concentrating your attention on the current moment.

Universal human values (UHV): These values are not only necessary for being good human beings, but also play an important role in the life of humans at various stages including their family, society, education, and career.

Lectures by Eminent People: This period can be utilized for lectures by eminent people to give exposure to students in various fields.

Art & craft activity: this is a broad range of tasks requiring one to use their hands to create things.

Literary Activities like talking, singing, reading, storytelling, drawing, and writing help to develop literacy

S1, S6 (Smart classroom)

Venue: Auditorium, Seminar Hall, Smart classroom

The placed students of various departments from our college have interacted with our first-year students at Seminar Hall, assembly hall, and hall number 10. They shared their experiences and the importance of skills such as Aptitude, Coding tests, assignments, and skillrack. They motivated them to create a profile on LinkedIn. Moreover, the placed students asked our first-year students to analyze the various domains available in their field and finalize the suitable domain in the second year itself.

Time: 3:45 PM - 5:15 PM
Programme: Sports/Gym
Venue: NEC Ground

Students eagerly participated in physical activities at the Gym, and indoor and outdoor games at our college grounds.

Students had a fantastic learning experience overall due to the student introduction programmes, which were held on August 17, 2023, and featured academics, interaction with placed students, and physical activities. The diverse course selection aims to foster not only academic brilliance but also comprehensive growth and personal development.

Summary of Induction Program

Engineering institutes were established to produce well-trained engineering personnel who also felt a sense of duty to their families, their country, and themselves. Without understanding their interests and abilities, the entering undergraduate students are pressured by society and their parents to choose a field in engineering. As a result, the majority of students struggle to relate to the objectives of their institution. The purpose of the induction program is to make newly enrolled students, encourage them to explore their academic interests and extracurricular activities, lessen competition and encourage them to work for excellence, foster a sense of community among them, build relationships between students and teachers, provide a broader viewpoint on life, and develop their character.
